Celebrating Distinction & Excellence

CACI Honors Recognition and Incentive Award Winners at the American Red Cross National Headquarters, Washington, DC, April 8, 2008

Above: Our latest awards celebration was a toast to 34 individual and team winners, along with their guests and nominating managers, for their outstanding contributions to CACI's growth and success.

Project Plus Awardee Anthony Eldredge and Youngae Eldredge (left) enjoyed the festivities along with nominating manager Louis Moiani and Cynthia Moiani.

Guests at CACI's Recognition and Incentive Awards celebration enjoyed dinner and presentations in the American Red Cross Governors Hall, featuring a brilliant display of original Tiffany stained glass windows. Presentations by Executive Chairman Dr. J.P. (Jack) London and President of U.S. Operations Bill Fairl celebrated our top performers' excellence and innovation — keeping customers No. 1, collaborating to win, and attacking every recompet with energy and teamwork.
