

★ SPECIAL EDITION ★

The Next Chapter ...in the CACI Story

Inside This Issue

At a special ceremony in June, CACI Chairman Dr. Jack London read the inscription on a simple silver baton: "Paul — Please keep the band moving forward!" With that, he handed it to President and Chief Executive Officer Paul Cofoni ... and a new CACI era had begun.

- ★ Passing the baton
- ★ Meet the new leaders of U.S. Operations

July 1, 2007 marked the beginning of CACI's 46th year in business — and the start of a new chapter in CACI's history. On this date, Dr. J.P. (Jack) London, while continuing his leadership as Executive Chairman and Chairman of the Board, turned over the day-to-day management of CACI to Paul Cofoni as our new President and Chief Executive Officer. Bill Fairl was appointed President of U.S. Operations, and Randy Fuerst was named Chief Operating Officer. CACI's management transition was all part of our growth strategy to enhance and equip CACI's leadership team for the years ahead, to execute our plan to become a $5 billion company by fiscal year 2012.

$5B
2012

See inside

From a Foundation of Strength comes

Dr. J.P. (Jack) London

Executive Chairman
Chairman of the Board

Celebrating his 35th

year with CACI, Dr. J.P. (Jack) London, who led CACI as President and Chief Executive Officer since 1984, and as Chairman of the Board since 1990, has transitioned from his day-to-day management role to continue his service as Executive Chairman and Chairman of the Board.

Under Dr. London's tenure, CACI has grown from a small professional services firm into a worldwide IT provider with $2 billion in revenue. He has led company turnarounds in revenue and continually positioned it for sustained growth. The world-class corporate development and mergers and acquisitions (M&A) program he has created has added 36 companies to CACI's workforce since 1992, making us the industry's leading strategic consolidator.

As Chairman, Dr. London will continue to play a leadership role in our M&A activities, support key customer relationships, and work with new CEO Paul Cofoni on CACI's strategic vision.

Announcing the management transition, Dr. London said, "I commend our CACI employees, whose dedication and work ethic have built our company, and I thank our highly qualified senior management team for its leadership ... There is an exciting road ahead, and this team is ready to roll!"

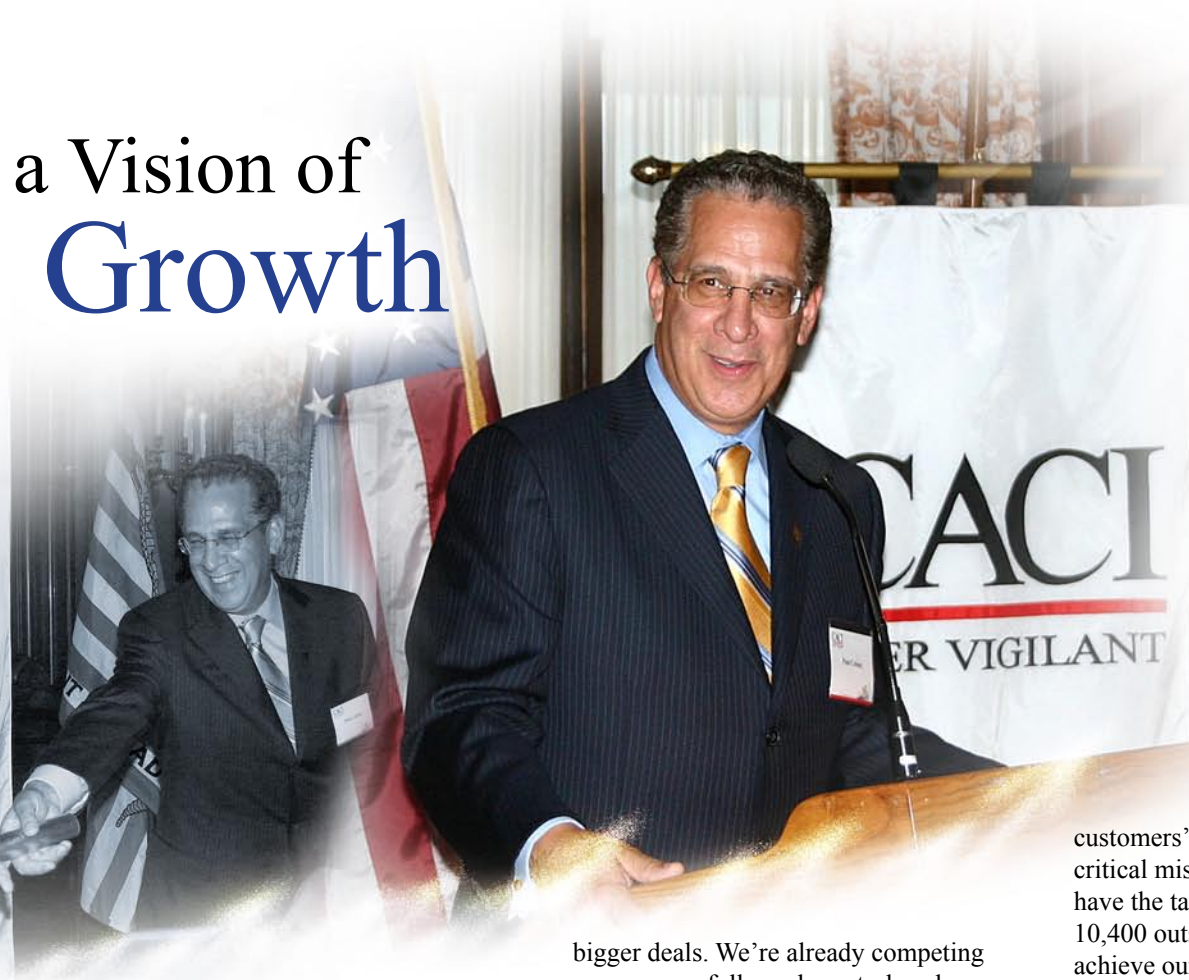

*During a celebration of our CEO transition at CACI's Ballston, Va. headquarters, Dr. London presents Paul Cofoni with a special edition of the CACI history book, Creation of an Opportunity, honoring his appointment as President and CEO.*

Dr. London and Corporate Communications Executive VP Jody Brown join in presenting a framed commemoration of the press release announcing the transition.

a Vision of Growth

Paul Cofoni

President and Chief Executive Officer

bigger deals. We're already competing very successfully on large task order contracts alongside the largest companies in our industry — and ...

customers' preferred provider for all their critical missions. Most importantly, we have the talents and expertise of more than 10,400 outstanding CACI professionals to achieve our goals.

"Our confidence is strong, our aspirations are high, and our future is brighter than ever. This is a fantastic time to be at CACI."

Paul Cofoni's objective is to build on this success.

"CACI's vision is to be the best in everything we do," Paul says. "We have the plans and the opportunities to succeed. We are relentlessly focused on being our

Paul Cofoni becomes our new President and CEO after serving as President of U.S. Operations for almost two years. Under his guidance, we have increased the reach of our U.S. operations and our ability to take on larger and more complex projects solving the federal government's most challenging problems.

Paul's goal now is to accelerate building the CACI infrastructure, teams, and technical distinctions we need to pursue

Paul Cofoni addresses CACI's Board of Directors and top management team at a special meeting in Washington, D.C.

Dr. London and Paul Cofoni at work in CACI's Admiral Thomas H. Moorer Board Room.

All Photos by Stan Poczaitek

Bill Fairl - President of U.S. Operations

Bill Fairl has been one of CACI's top executives for almost 10 years. As CACI's Chief Operating Officer, Bill led our operations teams to win record-breaking contract awards against the top competitors in our industry. He helped support some of our largest acquisitions and oversaw the development of CACI capabilities that continue to drive our success. Now, as leader of all of our U.S.-based operations, Bill takes an even greater role in CACI's growth and success.

"Together, I know we will meet the challenges, and capitalize on the opportunities, to deliver a great year for our team."

"I am honored to be a member of this terrific corporation," Bill said recently, "and excited to serve CACI at this new level. It's been my true privilege to serve with a team of business group executives and general managers that I consider to be the best out there. Together, I know we will meet the challenges, and capitalize on the opportunities, to deliver a great year for our team."

Randy Fuerst - Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Operations

Randy Fuerst is a proven performer who spearheaded the successful growth of our managed network services business. As Chief Operating Officer, Randy will lead CACI's main business groups and our core offerings of systems integration, network services, engineering and logistics, and knowledge management. He is known at CACI and throughout our industry as a consummate "line" professional — an expert in client interaction and building the teams and solutions clients need to succeed. Upon his appointment Randy said, "I'm proud to become part of CACI's executive management team. It's a pleasure to join Bill and all our senior managers in leading our fine people to grow the company and help our clients carry out their vital missions."

"It's a pleasure to join Bill and all our senior managers in leading our fine people to grow the company and help our clients carry out their vital missions."

Publisher: Jody Brown ■ Editor: Michael Pino ■ Desktop Production: Steve Gibson ■ Employee Communications: Sandy Snyder ■ Submit articles, photos, and story ideas to Michael Pino via fax (703) 528-4196, mail stop 01/03, or mpino@caci.com ■ Visit us online: Internet — www.caci.com ■ CACI.net — www.hq.caci.com